

HAMADAN CRAFT REVIVAL FOUNDATION

Reviving Heritage. Empowering Artisans. Securing The Future Of Kashmir Crafts.

Subject : Request for a Message for the Launch of the State of Kashmir Crafts 2026

His Excellency

The Hon'ble Lieutenant Governor

Union Territory of Jammu & Kashmir

Raj Bhavan

Srinagar

I have the honour to write on behalf of the Hamadan Craft Revival Foundation (HCRF), an independent, non-governmental public policy think tank committed to strengthening Kashmir's handicraft sector through research, documentation, institutional collaboration, stakeholder engagement, and evidence-based policy dialogue.

Recognising the cultural, social, and economic significance of Kashmir's handicrafts, the Foundation has initiated State of Kashmir Crafts 2026, a flagship annual assessment intended to establish a comprehensive understanding of the sector's present condition, principal challenges, emerging opportunities, and future priorities.

The assessment will be undertaken through structured public consultation, institutional submissions, documentary evidence, validation, and expert review. It will invite participation from artisans, manufacturers, exporters, cooperatives, educational institutions, government departments, financial institutions, civil society organisations, researchers, media representatives, and citizens across all ten districts of Kashmir.

The initiative has been designed around transparent governance arrangements, stakeholder-specific consultation instruments, evidence submission, public review, validation, expert scrutiny, and annual reporting.

HAMADAN CRAFT REVIVAL FOUNDATION

Reviving Heritage. Empowering Artisans. Securing The Future Of Kashmir Crafts.

Its purpose is to create a credible public knowledge resource capable of supporting informed policy discussion, institutional planning, academic research, and the long-term development of the handicraft sector.

As the Foundation prepares to formally open the consultation on 17 August 2026, we respectfully request Your Excellency to graciously provide a brief message for the launch of the initiative, encouraging broad, constructive, and informed participation.

The engagement of government departments, public bodies, government-supported institutions, universities, technical institutes, cultural organisations, and sector-development agencies will be particularly important to the quality and reach of the assessment. A message from Your Excellency would provide valuable institutional encouragement, strengthen public confidence, and facilitate constructive participation while fully respecting the administrative procedures and mandates of the institutions concerned.

Subject to Your Excellency's approval, the message would be published on the official State of Kashmir Crafts 2026 website, included in the launch materials, and reproduced in the final assessment report. It would be presented solely as an encouragement for participation and knowledge-sharing in an independent public-interest exercise and would not imply governmental sponsorship, formal partnership, endorsement of the Foundation, or prior acceptance of the eventual findings or recommendations.

We believe that Your Excellency's message would meaningfully support the participation of artisans, institutions, researchers, enterprises, public bodies, and citizens, while reinforcing the importance of preserving traditional knowledge, strengthening artisan livelihoods, improving institutional coordination, and advancing the sustainable development of one of Jammu and Kashmir's most valuable cultural and economic sectors.

Reviving Heritage. Empowering Artisans. Securing The Future Of Kashmir Crafts.

For Your Excellency's kind consideration, we have enclosed a brief institutional introduction to HCRF, together with the State of Kashmir Crafts 2026 Concept Note, Governance Framework, and Consultation Framework, outlining the initiative's objectives, scope, methodology, governance arrangements, participation architecture, and implementation roadmap.

We would be deeply honoured to receive Your Excellency's message and best wishes for the successful commencement of this annual assessment programme.
